

ALFONSO AT HOME

SPANISH ENTHUSIASM AT ITS HIGHEST PITCH.

The Departure of the King From Paris—His Journey to Madrid—Enthusiasm of the People—A Grand Reception—Disensions in France—Grevy Threatens to Resign—Etc., Etc.

PARIS, October 2.—King Alfonso in declining the invitation of President Grevy, to prolong his stay in Paris, remarked that M. Grevy's apologies for his treatment by the people in the streets on Saturday night make him forget the bitterness of his entry into Paris, but that Spain would long remember the hisses of the populace, who would not see that behind the king it was the nation they were hissing. The Paris correspondent of the Times, who was on the train with King Alfonso, reports that in an interview with Marquis De La Viga de Armijo, Spanish minister of foreign affairs, he was authorized to deny the reports that a treaty had been entered into by Spain with Germany. As the train bearing the king to the frontier left the station in Paris,

FACTS FROM THE CAPITAL.

Garlington's Return.—On the Mormon Question.—Other Matters.

WASHINGTON, October 2.—Lieutenant E. A. Garlington, of the Seventh cavalry, who commanded the Greeley relief expedition, arrived at Washington this morning from the Yosemite and returned to the War Department. He subsequently visited the signal office and had a consultation with Captain Mills, acting chief signal officer, and Lieutenant Caglar, acting chief of the signal station at Yosemite. Lieutenant Garlington will report directly to Secretary Lincoln as soon as that officer returns to Washington, and in the meantime declines to say anything whatever on the subject of his expedition.

THE MORMON QUESTION.

"What is to be done about the Mormon question this session?" your correspondent asked of a gentleman here, who has friends in prominent position in Utah and therefore watches the situation pretty closely. "Of course the Edmunds law is acknowledged as a failure."

"It is a failure undoubtedly," was his response, "and I see but one way out of the difficulty, and that way is a very simple one, too."

"What is it?"

"Abolish the present system of government there out of existence, and direct the president to appoint a provisional legislature, each member to be subject to confirmation by the senate. Let that legislature make laws for the territory, and that will probably be a moderate polygamy, and enforce them, and then bring the territory in as a state. She stands there, the single break in the line of states between the Atlantic and the Pacific, a barrier to progress, and the only legislation to be regarded. Give them the utmost freedom in regard to religion, as we do every day, but no polygamy."

THE ATTEMPTED TRAIN ROBBERY

More Told by the Express Messenger-Fortunate in Presence of Mind.

KANSAS CITY, October 2.—Petersen, the express messenger on the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe train which highwaymen attempted to rob, tells the following story of how he came to escape the raid took place at the Coalville, a station about ten miles east of Colorado state line, between 2 and 3 o'clock in the morning. There is an eating house in the town, but Petersen says he did not stop there usual, for twenty minutes in order to give the passengers an opportunity to get lunch. The train was No. 4, bound east, with Conductor McGreeley, Engineer John Hilton, Fireman Saddle Creek and Baggageman Johnson on board. The train stopped to put off some railroad mail which I had; and there being no express matter to put off and no further work for me to do, I laid down on my back just in front of the baggage door. I was not long in falling asleep. After lying down a few minutes I dropped off into a doze.

"I was lying on my back with my arms and legs over my head, with the doors of the side of the train open to the platform. I was open. Baggageman Johnson being seated on the back of the side door, looking out on the platform. My revolver, a Colt's 41 calibre, I laid down on the floor of the train, in front of my head and laid it down that it might be ready for any emergency that might arise. The pistol lay where I could casly my name upon it.

"I was in the car for the train to start. When I heard the words: 'Come out of there, you d—', This woke me up, and I afterward learned that the remark was made by conductor Greel to a man whom he mistook for a robber.

"I naturally placed down the car card and stood within four feet of me a man with a pistol in his hand. I was lying with my head toward the front end of the car and the man was standing at the rear. I did not know his name. In fact, I did not have time to speak before he covered me with his revolver and fired. The bullet went over my head and I could feel fire burning over my face. The bullet then fired at the man who had been covered. Fortunately I was completely unpossessed, and when he fired I realized that a train robbery was going on. With the hope of making the robber believe he had killed the man, I then fired at him with my revolver on my bosom, and allowed them to fall at my side. My right hand fell on the muzzle of my revolver, and realizing that it would never do to allow the robber to see that I was making a defense, I saw that I must fire slowly into position, until I had hold of the pistol with my hand on the trigger.

"The robber did not notice this maneuver, and I was dark in that part of the car. When they lay down, I saw the man working his way toward the rear of the car, evidently supposing he had finished me, and intended to kill the baggage man, or any one else who got in his way. As soon as I got hold of the pistol I began to fire into the rear, and fired at the robber. I jumped up then, and walked toward the man. He raised his revolver as if to shoot again, but it was not necessary, the "pal" climbed the roof of the car. With his shot, he struck the body was behind the stove. I aimed at his abdomen, and I believe my ball took effect.

About this time I saw another man, who proved to be a 'pal' of the first, trying to climb in at a side door. No sooner had I fired, however, than he disappeared, and the "pal" who had come out on the platform from the rear side door. The next minute I saw of the robbers. I calculated that they would come up at the front side door, and, realizing some slight, I barricaded the door so as to protect my property which had been entrusted to my car."

Less than half a minute after the robbers left my car, I heard some shots at the engine. The train stopped for a few minutes. I stood at the front side-door of my car, revolver in hand. Just then Conductor Greely came up. "Have they gone?" I asked.

"Yes," he said, replied he, "but I believe our engine and car are safe."

Greely went forward to them, and coming back to me said: They are both killed. Engineer is shot through the heart and the fireman through the neck. The engine is stopped and the fireman and the engineer and the fireman lying on the platform alongside of the engine. The fireman was still conscious and was taken into the hotel, where I talked with him a few minutes. The body of the dead engineer was put on board the train and taken to Dodge city.

After considerable delay we got a new engineer, one Campbell, at Coolidge and started on our journey, one hour later.

At Cimarron, twenty miles distant, we met a special train from Dodge city conveying to

SAN FRANCISCO, October 2.—A special dispatch says that Hensley and Elmore, the two remaining stage robbers, who aided in murdering Collins, the Wells Fargo messenger on August 10, were captured yesterday by Sheriff Gabriel, and taken to Florence, Arizona, where their associates, Bedford and Tuttle, were hanged by the citizens.]

The train containing King Alfonso and his suite arrived in Irun this morning. The king was received with unbounded enthusiasm by the crowd in waiting. In parting at the frontier with his French escort, the king bade them to take good care of his country and to give his thanks to the president for the cordial welcome he gave him in Paris. King Alfonso arrived in Spain this afternoon. An enormous crowd completely blocked the streets between the railway station and the royal palace. The French garrison in the part of the city and many shops were closed. The king and queen went to the Escorial to meet the king of Spain and the cabinet ministers, civil and military officers, and many deputies and senators who were expected to be present. The king and queen, accompanied by the king of Spain, the traitor, and others, were raised, escorted several minutes. Their majesties proceeded to the palace in a carriage unaccompanied. They were surrounded and followed by a great mass of people. The ladies in attendance along the route, the ladies in carriages and on the balconies waving their handkerchiefs. The enthusiasm was greatest in the square before the palace, where thousands had assembled, almost stopping the progress of the royal cortege. The king appeared on the balcony of the palace several times during the day and afterwards held a popular reception. To-night a grand serenade was given before the palace by all the bands of the garrison. Many houses throughout the city were illumined. El Carroero estimates that thirty thousand people attended King Alfonso's reception. The king ordered that no one should be refused admission to the palace. The saloon could scarcely contain the enormous crowd of aristocrats, officers, privates, soldiers, students, and the people.

The excitement of the Spaniards against France increases. The democratic and republican journals unite in advising moderation on the part of the people. At the theatre here last night, the audience compelled the actresses to sing the national air in place of the French ones forming a part of the programme. The popularity of the royal family has vastly increased.

LONDON, October 2.—A dispatch from Paris to Reuter's telegram company says the order for the assembling of the cabinet for to-day (Monday) by President Frey, has been countermanded. It is reported that a ministerial crisis exists.

A Paris dispatch to the Exchange telegraph company says it is stated that the cabinet has decided to resign. The dispatch also contains statements showing that M. Wilson abused his position as son-in-law of the president. It is asserted that Wilson favored the agitation against King Alfonso. He is also charged with having been the author of the article in France with "inspired" public news matter before it was published in the journal official. M. Wilson, with his wife and child, is expected to leave Paris with President Grevy. Another dispatch to the same company says President Grevy is much affected by the treatment received by King Alfonso in Paris and it is said he even intends to resign the presidency. It is stated that the violent feud which exists between M. Wilson and Prime Minister Ferry has also divided the cabinet between M. Wilson and M. Ferry in relation to King Alfonso's visit. Still another Paris dispatch states that M. Waldeck Rousseau, minister of the interior, has ordered that an inquiry be instituted as to the measures to be taken in connection with the occasion of King Alfonso's arrival in Paris on Saturday.

PARIS, Oct. 2.—No member of the cabinet has indicated any intention to resign as yet, latent, but the differences existing between General Thibauden and his colleagues are notorious, and his resignation may be regarded as certain. M. Chaulmel Lacour, minister of foreign affairs, and another minister intend to resign on the ground of ill-health. It is also believed that the cabinet which Prime Minister Terry has fully explained to President Grevy the position of the ministry. The Temps says the manifestation on Saturday was directed more against the cabinet than against Alfonso, who happened to appear during the violent scenes of internal politics, was made the scapegoat. A settlement of ministerial difficulties has been postponed until the meeting of the chambers. The cabinet will meet chambers as its now constant session.

GERMAN OPINIONS.

BERLIN, October 2.—The newspapers here regard the insults heaped upon King Alfonso in Paris as a moral defeat of France, and no power, they say, would now wish for alliance with her. The insults to the Spanish king were, in their opinion, more directly aimed against Germany, who considers them signs of weakness.

GERMAN BAD BLOOD.
The German Journalists of Chicago Bandyng Epithets with Each Other.

CHICAGO, October 2.—Respecting the controversy between the German dailies of the city, the following is understood to be a correct statement of the facts:

Richard Michaelis, of the Free Press, made an onslaught in the columns of his paper against August Spies, editor of the Arbeiter-Zeitung, plainly charging him with being a thief and an accessory to manslaughter. Mr. Spies had Michaelis arrested for criminal libel, and on a repetition of the published charges, had Michaelis arrested a second time. In the meantime the Staats, Zeitung took up the cudgel for Spies, and termed the attack of Michaelis unwarranted. Michaelis immediately began what were supposed retaliating actions, and entered suit against A. C. Hering, Washington Hesing, Wm. Rapp and Herman Raster all of the Staats Zeitung, and August Spies, of the Arbeiter Zeitung, but when the case had been twice called for trial, yesterday being the second time, and Mechaelis failing to appear, suit was dismissed. The suit of Spies against Mechaelis, after hearing all the evidence, resulted in the latter being bound over to the criminal court for action by the grand jury.

NEW YORK, October 26.—Charles Mitchell, champion middle weight of England, and William Sheriff, alias the Russian, met in the prize ring this afternoon at a secluded spot on the shore of Long Island. The fight was for one thousand dollars a side.

Seven rounds were fought without any damage to either, when the referee declared a draw. A large crowd had assembled and had tried vainly to see the fight, and their remarks were anything but good natured on complimentary when the decision was announced.

CHURCH BURNING.
An Ex-Convict Arrested on the Charge of Burning a Church in Trenton.

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 20.—John Green, an ex-convict, was arrested this afternoon on suspicion that he set fire to St. John's church, which was partially destroyed on Sunday night. Green has been identified by three altar boys as the strange man they saw in the sanctuary after the Sunday evening service. Officer Cleary also saw him on Cooper street in the rear of the church just after the fire. Green is a native-born Catholic, it will be difficult for him to explain his presence in the church. He will be given a hearing to-morrow.

An Esquimaux Report of That he was Murdered by a

LONDON, October 2.—The Times gives a report from the Upernivik correspondent of the Copenhagen Journal, that Lieutenant Greely, of the American Arctic expedition, was murdered by a mutinous crew. The report comes from Hans Hendrik, an Esquimaux with Dr. Nathorst. Hendrick states that he got news from an Esquimaux at Cape York. The Times considers the report improbable, as Dr. Nathorst has never mentioned it.

Last night at about 12 o'clock a pistol shot that seemed to come from the building on Fourth street, was heard and immediately afterwards the sidewalk in front of the Kennewash restaurant was crowded with men rushing from the building. The affair was not a small one, as attempts to get at it were unavailing. The excitement was great, and very little was known of the affair at the time. It was afterward's learned that in a dispute John Knowls shot at Tom Berry. The police have the matter in hand and will

The United States district and circuit court to day has been taken up with getting up the juries which will be finished to-morrow in season for the court's business. In order to get the jury lists ready for the work in empanelling a grand jury and in making up the regular panels of the traverse juries, jurors must be drawn from the boxes and not picked up as individuals as heretofore. This rule seems to be wise and prudent in accordance with the law and in view of the difficulties heretofore met by the district attorney in the character of some jurors unavoidably put upon the panels. It is believed that the result will not only be salutary but prevent that class of men known as professional jurors from being sworn to try criminal and civil cases and other cases in which the public and the community are involved. The marshal of the district is a judicious and careful officer and has done the best that could be done in summoning up the jury lists. The character of such lists is such that had men been drawn as was supposed upon, and bad men have been called as jurors much to the detriment of the public service and the impartial administration of the courts and the business before the courts and a heavy drain on the jury calendar.

▲ AD. DEATH.

One of the saddest deaths that has ever occurred in the history of this Mrs. Clarence Williams, who died yesterday at 11 o'clock. Sad indeed was it that the mother could no longer have lived to have cherished the little babe that she sacrificed her life to save, but there was no other way. Her husband, who died when she has passed away. The funeral took place at the residence of Mr. Henry Lathrop, on Forsyth street, this morning at 11 o'clock, and was attended by a large number of friends and a grief-stricken husband to Rest Hill cemetery. The pall bearers were Messrs. Harry Mix, G. C. Gibson, W. W. Turley, O. H. Williams, W. Conner, and A. R. King. Mrs. Williams was a kindly, cheerful, and a general favorite. Her husband is connected with the Central railroad company.

The crowd of possum hunters that went out for a big hunt Saturday night succeeded in bagging eight fat animals, and would have brought in more, but the whole party got lost.

Nothing special has taken place in the cotton market to-day. The staple is in good demand, and firm at prices quoted: good middlings, 9 5/8@9 7/8. The receipts have been 638 bales.

The ruins of Saturday night's fire, opposite the Academy of Music, are still smoking.

Mr. W. E. McAndrews, an extensive stock man of the city, left to-day for St. Louis via the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad, to purchase.

Mrs. W. W. Brown, wife of Postmaster Brown, left for Cochran to-day where, she will spend sometime with friends.

THE SUPREME COURT.

DECISIONS RENDERED TUESDAY,
OCTOBER 2, 1883.Hon. James Jackson, Chief Justice; Hon. Samuel Hall and M. H. Blanford, Associate Justices.
—Reported for the Constitution by J. H.
Lumpkin, Supreme Court Reporter.McMillan et al. vs. Davis. Ejectment, from Early. Practice in Supreme Court.

Where no motion for a new trial is made,
and a case is brought to this court by direct exception, a brief of the oral and a copy of the written testimony should be embodied in the bill of exceptions, or exhibited thereto and properly identified. It is not sufficient to state in the bill of exceptions that certain deeds were introduced in evidence, giving the names of the grantors, and stating that the deeds covered the premises in dispute. It is a copy, not an abbreviation of the written evidence which the rule of court requires; and a plaintiff in error cannot by an ex parte abbreviation claim a compliance with the rule. State 10 of Supreme Court, (code, 1882, p. 137); 41
Ga., 420; 64 Id., 608; 61 Id., 492, 493; 63 Id., 343; 58 Id., 430.

Writ of error dismissed.
Bacon & Co. vs. Ford, by A. Hood, Jr., for plaintiffs in error.
R. H. Powell; H. C. Sheffield, by J. H.
Lumpkin, for defendant.

Harris, executor, vs. Butler. Appeal, from Early. Practice in Supreme Court.
Jackson, C. J.—On a careful examination of this bill of exceptions and the entire record, we are unable to find anywhere on or in either both being attached to each other,
any certificate by the clerk of the supreme court that what is styled the bill of exceptions is the true original bill of exceptions, or any certificate at all about any paper in the entire package as the bill of exceptions.
We have no jurisdiction therefore of the case,
and it must be dismissed, there being here no
legal writ of error.

2. On examination of the record, it appears that the evidence required the verdict, and we are therefore less reluctant to dismiss the case.

Writ of error dismissed.
R. H. Powell, for plaintiff in error.
E. C. Bower, by brief, for defendant.

Southern Express Company vs. Wheeler.
Certiorari, from Sumter. Practice in Fact.
Principal and Agent.

Jackson, C. J.—Section 4059 of the Code requires ten days notice in writing of the sanction etc., of the writ of certiorari, and if it is not given, the writ will be dismissed.
Code 4059; 44 Ga. 16.

2. It may be waived, but the waiver must be in writing. 46 Ga. 610.

3. A bond signed by one as attorney in fact for plaintiff in certiorari should be accompanied by the power of attorney. None appearing in the record, the writ of certiorari should have been dismissed.

The court was therefore right to dismiss the certiorari on both grounds.

Judgment affirmed.

J. W. Brady; B. B. Hinton, for plaintiff
in error.

L. J. Blacklock; Guerry & Sons, for defendant.

Beal vs. State. Burglary, from Sumter.
Criminal Law. Accused, by witness.

Jackson, C. J.—There is ample evidence to convict the defendant of burglary, if the boy, twelve years old (a witness), was not an accomplice. If coerced by fear of his life or limb, he could not be an accomplice, because he could not commit a crime when so coerced.
Code 4303.

2. The court submitted the issue on that question as fairly for the defendant as could be asked by him, and the jury found that he was so coerced under evidence enough to sus-tain the finding, the tender years of the boy being considered. Code 4294, 4295; 32 Ga., 496.

Judgment affirmed.

L. J. Blacklock; Guerry & Sons, for plaintiff
in error.

C. B. Hudson, solicitor general, for the state.

McDonald, vs. Stae. Manslaughter, from Randolph. New Trial. Verdict.

Jackson, C. J.—The grounds of the motion for a new trial are certified by the judge to be incorrect, except that which alleges that the verdict against the evidence and the law. So that this alone can be considered.

2. On examining the record, the evidence appears ample to sustain the verdict, and therefore it is not against the weight of evidence or the law.

Judgment affirmed.

William Wallace; R. E. Kennon, by R. H.
Powell, for plaintiff in error.

J. H. Guerry, solicitor general, for the state.

Hawkins vs. Haynes. Case, from Sumter.
Negligence. Bailment.

Jackson, C. J.—A horse was hired from a livery stable for a trip to a plantation, and was used by an employee of the hirer. The distance traveled was twenty-six to twenty-eight miles; the day was warm, and the trip the horse became sick at a place some seven or eight miles from home; he was not stopped, but was driven with two persons in the buggy, until within about a half mile of his home
when he was turned into a lot with two plantation mules and all at once the plantation horses had left of corn and fodder; after the horse was left, the person driving him went on to the owner's house. The horse died the same day. The owner swore that the conduct of the employee in charge was wrong and cruel after the discovery that the horse had soured. The employee and the person in the buggy with him swore that it was done for the best; that they thought best to get the horse home to the owner, who was a livestock keeper and an expert in these diseases of horses.

Held, that there was sufficient evidence to support a verdict in favor of the owner against the hirer. 31 Ga. 348.

2. The refusal of a non suit was right, the evidence being such as would warrant a verdict for the plaintiff.

3. In all cases of bailment, after proof of loss, the burden is on the bailee to show diligence. Loss, as used in this rule of law, does not mean merely a casual loss, of the thing bailed but is used in the sense of damage or injury. Code 2566; 38 Ga. 437, 399; 28 Id., 505; 38 Id., 32.

Judgment affirmed.

Guerry & Sons; C. F. Crisp, for plaintiff
in error.

Hinton & Mathews, for defendant.

Welsh et al. vs. Lewis & Son et al. Money loan, from Macon. Mortgage. Witness.

Liens.

Jackson, C. J.—1. That a mortgage on personality was attested only by a brother-in-law of the mortgagee, who was a notary, does not render it illegal or its record bad.

(a.) This case differs from that in 46 Ga., 253. The rule as to an attorney rests on a special statute (Code 2408), and will not be extended by implication.

2. A mortgage began "5516, Montezuma, Macon county, Ga." Then followed the promissory note, after which came the following words: "Now, in consideration of the above advance of said sum of money, and to secure the same, I mortgage, sell and convey all my entire stock, merchandise now on hand, and hereafter to be received, contained in my brick store, west side of Doyle street, between Hill & Westgate & Vinson and Jaraman," etc.

Held, that the whole paper, when construed together, means the goods in the brick store of the mortgagor in in Montezuma, Macon county, Ga., on the street named, and between two other stores named. It included all the merchandise in that store and to be in it to supply the place of old goods sold; and the description was sufficient. 46 Ga. 253; 55 Id., 543; 58 Id., 391, 178.

(a.) Besides the mortgage was recorded in Macon county, and it was proved that the only store the mortgagor had was that on the street and in the place named in the town of Montezuma.

3. Where an attachment was levied on personal property on which there was a mortgage, and it became necessary to sell the property in order to save it, and the same was done under the ordinary for that purpose, (Code 2648) the sale was not encumbered with the lien of the mortgage.

4. Where a mortgage on perishable property sold under an attachment was foreclosed
before the money raised had been distributed,
it was in time to claim the fund under a money rule. Even if it had not been fore-
closed as the whole property was sold, it
would have been entitled to claim the fund.
Wherever perishable property is sold to preserve it, the sale will free the property from
the lien of an unrecorded mortgage, and the
debtor will be entitled to claim the fund.

5. Where a mortgage on perishable prop-

closed as the whole property was sold, it
would have been entitled to claim the fund.
Wherever perishable property is sold to pre-

the lien of an unrecorded mortgage, and the
debtor will be entitled to claim the fund.

closed as the whole property was sold, it
would have been entitled to claim the fund.
Wherever perishable property is sold to preserve it, the sale will free the property from
the lien of an unrecorded mortgage, and the
debtor will be entitled to claim the fund.

7. Where a mortgage on perishable property sold under an attachment was foreclosed
before the money raised had been distributed,
it was in time to claim the fund under a
money rule. Even if it had not been fore-
closed as the whole property was sold, it
would have been entitled to claim the fund.
Wherever perishable property is sold to preserve it, the sale will free the property from
the lien of an unrecorded mortgage, and the
debtor will be entitled to claim the fund.

8. Where a mortgage on perishable property sold under an attachment was foreclosed
before the money raised had been distributed,
it was in time to claim the fund under a
money rule. Even if it had not been fore-
closed as the whole property was sold, it
would have been entitled to claim the fund.
Wherever perishable property is sold to preserve it, the sale will free the property from
the lien of an unrecorded mortgage, and the
debtor will be entitled to claim the fund.

9. Where a mortgage on perishable property sold under an attachment was foreclosed
before the money raised had been distributed,
it was in time to claim the fund under a
money rule. Even if it had not been fore-
closed as the whole property was sold, it
would have been entitled to claim the fund.
Wherever perishable property is sold to preserve it, the sale will free the property from
the lien of an unrecorded mortgage, and the
debtor will be entitled to claim the fund.

erty sold under an attachment was foreclosed
before the money raised had been distributed,
it was in time to claim the fund under a

THE RAILROADS.

CROSS-TIE GOSSIP IN AND OUT OF ATLANTA RAILROAD CIRCLES.

Northwestern Railroad Suit—Sale of Railroad Shares—A Dividend Not Justified—A New Southern Line—Free Bridge at Nashville—The Proposed Buena Vista Road.

New turpentine stills are springing up all along the line of the Central railroad this side of Savannah.

The fast mail train on the Georgia railroad was rocked last Monday near Milledgeville by a rock striking the ladies' coach and the other sleeper. The party that committed the depredation has not been captured.

The Washington Gazette says: "We learn that five miles of the Augusta and Elberton railroad have been graded at a total cost of forty-five hundred dollars, but there was not a great deal of grading to do. Only two men have refused to give this road the right of way. One is a man named Ivy, in Columbia county, and the other a lawyer in Lincoln."

Augusta Chronicle: President Eugene F. Verdery arrived in the city yesterday afternoon from Laurens, S. C., where he attended a meeting of the board of directors of the Greenwood, Laurens and Spartanburg railroad. He was accompanied by his wife and two children. He was met by a large number of friends and was taken to the hotel. He will remain in the city for several days.

Putting Down New Trains.—The Eastern, Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad are nearly ready to put down their new tracks at their depot, 50 hands are excavating and will be ready in two weeks for the first train.

The Northeastern Suit.—The northeastern railroad suit for recovery has awakened the states officials. Georgia endorsed the bonds of the road to the extent of two hundred and sixty thousand dollars and Governor McDaniel has determined that the interests of the state shall be protected in the coming litigation. He has called a consultation of the attorney general and the trustees of the railroad bonds to be held tomorrow. At that meeting the interests of the state will be discussed fully and the needful steps in reference to the matter will be taken. It is said that the road is worth enough to pay off the first mortgage bonds and perhaps enough or more than enough to pay off the second mortgage bonds also. At any rate the state will not lose anything. The application for a receiver will be heard and permanently decided at Lawrenceville on the 10th.

Sale of Railroad Shares.—Augusta, Ga., October 2.—Two shares of the Georgia railroad stock were knocked down at 135¢ per share. Superintendent Rogers of the Central road inspected the Augusta and Knoxville railroad yesterday. He was accompanied by Messrs. Huntington and others, projectors of the new road from Cincinnati to Nashville, that that company shall levy a tax sufficient to pay half the cost of a bridge across the Cumberland to be jointly used by the railroads and the country as a free bridge.

Free Bridge at Nashville.—Nashville, October 1.—Davidson county court today voted an acceptance of the proposition of Messrs. Huntington and others, projectors of the new road from Cincinnati to Nashville, that that company shall levy a tax sufficient to pay half the cost of a bridge across the Cumberland to be jointly used by the railroads and the country as a free bridge.

A Dividend Not Justified.—The statement of President Buford, of the Richmond and Danville railroad, to the directors of the road, left a doubt in the minds of some as to whether the second installment of the 6 per cent dividend on those bonds, which was declared by the directors last year, would be paid this fall. Mr. George S. Scott, who is now virtually in control of this road, said yesterday that no dividend would be paid this fall. "The directors had no right to declare a dividend on last year's earnings," he said. "For the surplus over all expenses was only about $78,000, which, of course, was not enough to justify a 6 per cent dividend on the $1,000,000 of bonds." The present board of directors, Mr. Scott said, would stand by the terms of the debenture bonds, which are entitled to a 6 per cent dividend, but he said that the earnings of the road above all fixed charges and expenditures for necessary improvements are sufficient to pay it. The net earnings for the present fiscal year, it is said, will exceed $400,000, and if the directors find within the next 30 days that they will have a balance sufficient for the purpose they will declare a 6 per cent dividend on the debenture bonds, payable next spring and fall.

A New Southern Line.—Baltimore, N. C., September 26.—Mr. Moncure Robinson, who owns the railroad running from Richmond to Fredericksburg, is now building a road from Richmond to Ridgeway, the latter a small way station in this state on the Raleigh and Gaston railroad. The road is to be known as the Virginia and Carolina railroad. The distance from Richmond to Ridgeway is about 100 miles. The Raleigh and Gaston road is controlled by Mr. John M. Robinson, son of Moncure Robinson, and it is understood that the roads under the control of the former, from Ridgeway to Hamlet, on the Carolina Central railroad, near the South Carolina line, are to be used by Mr. Moncure Robinson's road. The road is to be built to Ridgeway. It is also stated that it intends to build the gap of 15 miles from Hamlet to Darlington South Carolina, and that the completed line will bring into operation another through southern line to Charleston, Savannah, Mobile, and New Orleans.

The Proposed Buena Vista Road.—From the summer of 1882, the proposed Buena Vista road, which was to run from here to Sylva, has been the subject of much talk. The parties interested have been unable to agree. The incorporators previously chosen to represent the subscription of America proceeded to Elaville last Tuesday, according to appointment, but, as had been previously intimated, were not met by Buena Vista's representatives. This was interpreted to mean that the delegation from Buena Vista to consult with Captain Raul of the Central had met with the desired success, and did not desire to consult further with representatives of America in regard to the work in contemplation. We are informed that it was decided at Buena Vista on Wednesday last that the road shall tap the southwestern railroad at Ochlocknee instead of Americus or Andersonville, and that this decision is final, as Captain Raul leaves no matter of location to discuss with the citizens of Buena Vista. All we know however, is hearsay as we have heard nothing officially. We are confident, however, that the project will be carried out, and that the road will be built, and that it will probably learn from the next issue of the Buena Vista paper.

The First Spike in the Anniston and Atlantic.—Only a few months ago, Messrs. Tyler & Noble concluded to have a railroad from here to Sylva, near Goodwater and christened it the Anniston and Atlantic railroad. The contract was let, and in the brief space of three months, most of the road bed is ready for the iron on the first thirty miles. We noted in our last issue the arrival of the engine, and in the issue before announced that the first installment of the iron had arrived. Now we are gratified to announce the first spike has been driven, and that track laying has commenced in earnest. Next week track laying will commence at the Talladega end, working in both ways, and the working parties will try and meet each other half way between Anniston and Talladega. The road was completed by the train will make a through trip to Talladega about the 1st of November. The engine recently purchased from the Montgomery and Savannah works of Maryland, is what is known as an American engine with automatic driving brakes and all modern improvements. The road is laid with 30 pound steel rails, fastened with angle fish joints. The construction train will soon begin to make daily trips as far as the track will go.

Four Minutes Cost $25,000.—Boston, October 1.—On the 1st of October one of the great failures in Boston recently a check of the first solvent firm for $25,000 was deposited in a Boston bank and sent to the clearing house. It was then transferred to the account of another bank and was taken to that bank for redemption. The rules of the clearing house association provide that checks when proved to be worthless shall be returned to the bank from which they were received before one o'clock on the day they were received. By courtesy the bank allows five minutes more. The bank which received the check in question, finding that it was not good, returned it to the other bank, where it was received just five minutes too late, and the holder of the paper lost $25,000.

Dr. Buchanan Released.—Philadelphia, October 1.—In the case of trespass, an action brought by Isabella McGarry against her father, the notorious "Dr." Buchanan, in which he is charged with taking $1,000 worth of personal property from her, Justice Parker, of Camden, today decided in favor of the release of the defendant, upon the ground that the evidence offered by the defendant was such as to disprove the plaintiff's affidavits. When the "doctor" was convicted and sent to prison on the notorious bogus diploma case in Philadelphia, he left everything at his farm near Haddonfield, in charge of his daughter. When the "doctor" returned, according to his statement, he was rather coolly received, and upon his removing some of his personal property he was arrested on the charge of trespass, preferred against him by the daughter. The decision of Justice Parker releases the "doctor" several thousand dollars worth of personal property which he left with his daughter.

Another Gift From John P. Howard.—Burlington, Vt., October 1.—John P. Howard to-night announced his intention of giving a new building for the medical department of the University of Vermont and of retreating the old building to a gymnasium. The aggregate cost will be about $100,000. This will make over $100,000 that Mr. Howard has given to the university and the city within ten years.

Disregarding the Italian Government.—Rome, October 2.—A papal decree regulating procedure before the civil tribunals of the Vatican is published. The decree ignores the Italian laws and ordains that all contracts between any portion of the Pope's household and persons outside shall be regulated solely by the pontifical law.

Three Men Killed.—Chicago, October 2.—By the falling in of the roof of a store at Rogers Park suburb today a man named Patrick McDonald, another named Nicholas and another, name unknown, all workmen were killed.

The Yellow Fever.—Washington, October 2.—The acting secretary of the navy has received a telegram from Commandant Welch, Pensacola navy yard, dated 1st inst, as follows: "No new cases and no deaths today. But one case under treatment."

Revolutionary Day.—New York, October 2.—Minister Preston, of Hayti, informed by cable from Port-au-Prince that an insurrectionary riot had occurred but had been quelled.

The Garmon Bank.—Berlin, October 2.—The statement of the Imperial Bank of Germany shows a decrease in specie of thirty million marks.

The City Council.—At the meeting of the city council Monday night it was decided not to lease the first floor of the chamber of commerce building. The vote was: For the lease, Messrs. Dunning, Gray and Howell. Against the lease, Messrs. Adams, Longley, Ryan, E. Rylands and Day. A motion of a motion to reconsider was made, and the matter is practically still open, so that the lease may yet be made.

Sealed Bids Wanted.—W. O. Connor, principal of the Georgia institute for the deaf and dumb at Cave Spring, advertises for sealed proposals for supplies for the institute. Merchants would do well to read it.

MARRIED ON A DRAWBRIDGE.—Wedding His Fourth Wife While Attending to His Duties.

RED BANK, N. J., October 1.—Little Silver, a few miles from this place, was on Sunday the scene of one of the strangest weddings on record. The keeper of Port au Peck drawbridge, near Pleasant bay, is William Berlin, already almost sixty-five years of age, had already had three blushing brides to the altar and survived them all. Of late he had been paying court to Mrs. Lane, a comely widow of middle age, residing at Oceanport. As the day approached which was set for William's fourth entanglement the bridegroom found that he could not obtain a substitute to attend the duties of bridge-tender while the ceremony was performed. A meeting was entered to be held on the Port-au-Peck drawbridge on Sunday evening. A clergyman was called from Long Branch and during the service it was that Mr. Berlin was not occupied in opening and closing the drawbridge, but in attending to his duties as a husband. The ceremony was performed, and the solemn words were spoken that made Drawbridge Keeper Berlin and Mrs. Lane one of flesh. An impromptu lunch was afterwards served on the bridge.

THROUGH THE CITY.

A GLIMPSE OF CURRENT EVENTS IN ATLANTA.

The Day's Doings in Public Offices—The Record of the Courts, the Railroads and the Hotels—Real Estate Operations—Gossip of All Kinds—Items of General Interest, Etc.

A new water pipe is being sunk on Butler street, near Hunter street.

The West End and Atlanta street car company will receive their cars some time this week.

The city hall, since the county offices have been removed, wears a lonely and desolate appearance.

The Western and Atlantic railroad shops in this city are now making two handsome large engines.

The residence of Mr. James Caldwell, on Forsyth street, was burglarized last night before last and a new silk hat and a purse containing about ten dollars were stolen.

Mr. Guthrie, the old man who was hurt Monday by falling through the elevator at Lodi's store, was much better yesterday, and the chances for his recovery are fine.

The board of police commissioners will convene in regular session next Monday night. So far there is no important business for the consideration of the board.

The East Tennessee road's construction force is now tearing away the Collier hill on Nelson street. Five side tracks will be laid where the hill now is after its removal. The road will also raise the Nelson street bridge.

By the breaking of the scaffold around a new building on Ezzard street yesterday Beck Hollis, a negro carpenter, who lives on Haynes street, was greeted to the ground. In the fall he sustained a bad fracture of the right arm.

The Metropolitan horse cars have "union passenger depot" painted on one end and "Anderson street" painted on the other. The company's stables and car shed will be erected near the corner of Anderson and Washington streets.

Agnes Moore was badly injured yesterday evening by falling into one of the deep cuts on the Central railroad near the city limits. The girl resides near Mulberry street, and was walking near the edge of the cut several feet above the roadbed. The edge caved in and she went down with the dirt. She was badly bruised in addition to sustaining a dislocation of the left shoulder.

THE BOHNEFELD FUNERAL.

The Remains Laid to Rest in Oakland—The Funeral Procession.

There could have been no stronger testimonial to the popularity of Mr. Oscar Bohnfeld than the long line of carriages, filled with his friends, which followed his body to Oakland yesterday morning. The funeral services were conducted at his late residence on Luckie street, and the spacious building was not half large enough for the ladies and gentlemen who congregated there to pay the last tribute of respect to the dead. The services were conducted by Rev. C. A. Evans, and his remarks were listened to with attention by those who were present. The funeral cortege was a long one, and as it passed along the streets nothing but the kindest remarks touching the deceased were heard. It was a beautiful casket in which his body was placed was literally hidden by the floral offerings of the many friends he made during life.

As to the cause of the suicide, nothing new developed during the day. The family, as Mr. Bohnfeld was coming to the place where he killed himself, probably Mr. Ballard was the last person who knew Mr. Bohnfeld to whom he spoke. Mr. Ballard was coming up the Georgia railroad to his place of business. It was about half-past seven o'clock. On the Butler street bridge he met Mr. Bohnfeld. They had been boys together, and were in the habit of calling each other "Oscar." In their boyhood way they greeted each other and passed on—one to his place of business, the other to the place of death. The next heard of Bohnfeld he was dead. The reasons why he sought death may never be known.

THE DAY AMONG THE CRIMINALS.

The Wild Man From Horrocks Gets a Hearing—Latta Released.

Denver Charley, alias Dr. Rogers, was arraigned before Justice Butts yesterday for a preliminary trial. The warrant charged the accused with obtaining money, amounting to $5, from the complainant, Mr. Webster, under false pretenses. The old German was present in court. He was not sufficiently conversant with the English language to testify in the case without an interpreter. Mr. Carl Weinmeister was procured and qualified as an interpreter and the case was opened. Mr. Weil appeared as the attorney for Webster and Mr. Black as the attorney for the prisoner. At the conclusion of the evidence and the argument Justice Butts assessed the bond at $300, and not being able to perfect a bond in the case, the prisoner was remanded to jail. It was rumored yesterday among the policemen that Denver Charley's friends contemplate and are trying to effect a compromise. Mr. Black, his attorney, says that Rogers will be able to perfect a bond in a few days.

LATA OUT OF JAIL.

Latta, the young man who owned so many bogus checks and who was released from jail last night, his brother Mr. C. G. Latta, reached the city from Raleigh, North Carolina, yesterday at noon. The bond was arranged and Latta was released.

The telegrams from Jacksonville's chief of police were considered and for quite a while seemed as if Latta would be compelled to remain in jail, but upon his sureties promising that he should not leave the city until an effort had been made to settle the Jacksonville matter, he was released.

Young Latta denies having done anything in Jacksonville, but a letter from Chief of Police Vinzant of that place which reached Atlanta yesterday, declares that he sold a forged draft in that city. Mr. C. G. Latta is a pleasant gentleman and appears greatly depressed on account of his brother's conduct.

OTHER POINTS PICKED UP.
Felix's preliminary trial takes place to-morrow. His attorney feels certain of an acquittal, and the prosecution feel the other way.

Officer Green has returned to duty.
John Thomas Smith was yesterday arrested by Officer Bone, on suspicion.

Wash Morgan, a negro barber who sharpens razors on Decatur street, was yesterday arrested by Officers Green and Aldridge, on the charge of larceny from the person. Morgan stole a watch from an old negro.

THE VETOED BILLS.

Governor McDaniel Takes a Hand in Unmaking Laws—The Vetoed Acts.

Yesterday Governor McDaniel closed up the investigation of bills pending before him for approval. The law does not require that he assign a reason for his vetoes after adjournment, but he nevertheless attached to each bill the reasons that actuated him in his course. The list was as follows:

An act to prevent foreign insurance companies from removing suits to the federal courts, to prescribe penalties therefor and for other purposes.

The governor said:

"The requirements of existing laws in pursuance of the constitution are sufficient protection to the people against foreign insurance companies. As this bill proposes other conditions which are not necessary to the safety of the policy holders but may be considered harsh toward the companies, I decline to approve it."

A bill to prohibit the railroad commissioners or their clerk from receiving fees in certain cases, and to provide a penalty therefor.

"I decline to approve this bill because it prescribes a punishment for the violation of any one of its provisions, which is unwarranted in the constitution—removal from office and disqualification to hold any office of honor or trust in case of conviction in the superior court. The constitution provides impeachment for this purpose, except in cases specially therein mentioned."

An act to amend an act entitled an act to repeal section 1711 of the code of 1875 and to insert another section, etc.

"The constitutional provision for two concurrent verdicts of juries at different terms of the court instead of such verdicts of two juries during the same term, as formerly practiced, clearly indicates that this bill, which shortens the time for obtaining divorces, is against public policy. Therefore I decline to approve it."

An act to define the jurisdiction of the county courts of this state, to prescribe the fees of judges and bailiffs for said courts in certain cases and for other purposes.

"I decline to approve this bill because section 2 provides certain fees for the bailiffs of county courts and contains further provisions as follows: 'And in other cases where fees shall be allowed or are taken by said judge or bailiff.'"

"It is, to say the least, doubtful whether any cost of fees prescribed in the code of 1882 for such bailiffs can be charged by them or by the sheriff acting for them. In a matter of such importance to parties having cases in county courts it is manifestly unwise to cause the confusion which would be caused under the operation of this bill if it should become a law."

An act to submit to the qualified voters of the city of Athens the question of establishing public schools.

"I withhold approval from this bill, because section 5 authorizes the mayor and council of Athens to issue bonds without submitting the question of incurring such indebtedness to the qualified voters of the city and without providing for the assessment and collection of an annual tax sufficient to pay the principal and interest within thirty years, as required by article 7, section 7, paragraphs 1 and 2 of the constitution."

An act to amend section 1235 (d) of the code so far as relates to the manner of receiving pupils into the deaf and dumb asylum.

"I cannot approve this bill because of an error not discovered in its passage in omitting the words 'in a condition mentally and physically,' in describing persons entitled to be received in the asylum for instruction. This destroys the purpose of the bill."

A bill to change the law in relation to legal advertising.

"I decline to approve this bill because the existing law in that particular is sufficiently good and the effect of the proposed amendment is at least of a doubtful policy."

A Cure of Pneumonia.

Mr. D. H. Barnaby, of Oswego, N. Y., says that his daughter was taken with a violent cold which terminated with pneumonia, and all the best physicians gave the case up and said she could not live but a few hours at most. She was in this condition when a friend recommended DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS and advised her to try it. She accepted it as a last resort, and was surprised to find that it produced a marked change for the better, and by persevering in its use a permanent cure was effected.

A BIG FIRE.

FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLARS IN PROPERTY DESTROYED.

The Wholesale Drug House of Howard & Candier Destroyed by Fire—Fifty Thousand Dollars' Damage of Women and Men From the Building.

Atlanta was visited by another destructive fire yesterday, and more than fifty thousand dollars worth of property fell a prey to the flames.

At about ten o'clock in the morning two negro porters were engaged in the basement of the wholesale drug house of Howard & Candier, at 47 Peachtree street, preparing to put some barrels of varnish on draught. While thus engaged, a bright flame flashed up around them and the clothing of one was caught and partly burned off. His companion tore the burning clothing from him and in the meantime both cried "fire" as loud as they could. Mr. Dan Candier, who was superintending the shipping of some goods at the rear of the store, also saw the fire and gave the alarm. The flames flashed over the basement, which was filled with inflammable material, and the men who were in there narrowly escaped. The smoke which was created was exceedingly dense and quickly rushed up into the second floor and boiled out at each end of the basement. The second or sidewalk floor was occupied as a salesroom and prescription department. The smoke rushed up through the elevator and drove out those who were engaged at work there. From there it poured up the elevator to the third floor, occupied as the laboratory of the establishment, where Professor Peacock and three young ladies, Miss Lula Young, Miss Georgia Buchanan and one other were engaged at work. At that instant a wild confusion and intense excitement prevailed. So rapidly had the smoke taken possession of the building that the young ladies could not see their way out. They screamed and made a break, but were taken possession of and safely taken to one of the second story windows on Peachtree street where they were rescued by a ladder.

No sooner had the excitement in that part of the building subsided than it broke out afresh in the second story of the building adjoining and having a side on Wheat street. The second story of the building was occupied by Captain Simmons. His room was enveloped in smoke but he walked out on an awning and easily escaped. The next rooms were occupied by Doctors H. F. Scott and A. D. Dyer and the rooms were occupied by Mrs. Foy as a dressmaking establishment. The two doctors became aware of the nearness of the fire and prepared to leave the building, but on opening their hall door they found the hall as black as night and the smoke blowing up the steps to the door. The door was closed, and they turned their attention to the side of the building overlooking Wheat street. Almost instantly a gust of wind sent a cloud of smoke around the corner, and from that time the fire was uncontrolled. Mrs. Foy is in New York, and two of her young lady assistants, Misses Jennie Brown and Carrie Shelton, were in the dressmakers' room with Mrs. M. J. Ivy who was engaged to give some instructions about making a dress. They saw smoke and started out only to find the smoke in the hallway so dense that they could not get out through it. In the excitement they were screaming "save us! save us!" and two of them ran into Dr. Dyer's office. Miss Jennie Brown got lost in the smoke and went into another room and fell fainting on the floor. She struck her face on the door and was revived. The ladies with her were supposed to be prevented. One negro man sprang to the sidewalk from the second story and a little boy named Buebee was hanging on by a wing and sill and was caught by Dr. Scott and pulled back. To add to the excitement it was discovered that a blind man named Helper was among those who were screaming "save us! save us!" in the excitement however, the ladies were kept in the rooms until Chief Ryan and Messrs. Leach and Watkins of the hook and ladder company could put up ladders and take them out. In that way they escaped without injury of a serious character. The scenes described were dramatic in the extreme and as a strong armed fireman would bear a lady safely to the ground the crowd would send up a hearty cheer.

As soon as the fire was discovered the alarm was turned on and the reels and trucks left the houses on the second and third floors. There was not a second's delay. The firemen ran to the spot and one hose was attached to a Peachtree street hydrant, to play on the front, and another was placed on Pryor street, to play on the rear of the building. The work was done by the foreman, who Chief Ryan and the hook and ladder men were rescuing the women. The water was turned on, and to the horror of the firemen, an instant street fire broke out. The water, spluttered out and with no force whatever, nozzles. There was no pressure whatever beyond the usual domestic pressure. The engines had come on, but as it is the universal custom to use the water works at first, they were not started up. The water was given to steam up, and Chief Ryan turned on a second alarm, thinking that the engines at the waterworks must have not noticed the first alarm. These delays occupied about fifteen minutes, and in the meantime the fire was burning rapidly. At the expiration of that time there was plenty of water, and it was used to good advantage. Streams were furnished by engines and the waterworks. When the crowd saw the water fail at the commencement of the fire a general feeling of disgust was plainly seen, and much fear was felt for the safety of the buildings in the neighborhood. Luckily, however, the three floors occupied by Howard & Candier were enclosed in fireproof walls and the fire's work was confined to that part of the block, barring some damage to the fronts of the stores on each side, the one at 45 by Clark, Thompson & Co., hardware, and the one at 49 by George E. King & Co., hardware. The fronts of those stores were damaged as were their stocks to some extent.

The losses will reach fifty thousand dollars and will perhaps go higher. The loss on the stock of Howard & Candier was a little more than forty thousand. The firm had an insurance of thirty thousand five hundred, one thousand of which was in the Atlanta Home. The building was a part of the F. A. Williams estate. It was insured for $3,500 and was damaged several thousand dollars, and lost considerably, but their losses have not been assessed. They were insured.

Clark, Thompson & Co., lost slightly. F. M. Jack lost only a few dollars by the removal of some goods before he reached the spot. Dr. Dyer, Dr. Scott, and Mrs. Foy all lost slight losses. Mrs. Foy and Dr. Scott were insured.

Mr. Richards, superintendent of the water works, says the first alarm that was telegraphed to the water works did not reach there, as the instrument at the works was out of order. The second alarm, fifteen minutes later, got there, and was quickly responded to, and a sufficient pressure was secured almost instantly.

For the present Howard & Candier will be at 55 Peachtree street.

Young Folks Why's and Wherefore's.

Within the past few years there has been a great improvement in books, and none more so than those written for young people—being of a character not only to entertain and interest, but also to instruct them. Among the delightful children's books of the season is "Young Folks Why's and Wherefore's," a story by Uncle Laurence, and founded on a French juvenile classic, handsomely illustrated. The book is not in appearance, beautiful print, and is issued from the well known and popular house of J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia.

A Remarkable Surgical Operation.
The following is taken from the Columbus Enquirer-Sun of 30th ult.
Having heard several times, of late of a rare surgical operation being performed in our city, we went to the hospital yesterday to ascertain the particulars. The fact that we can learn of no similar operation ever having been made here, and the prompt and rapid recovery of the patient will make the particulars of interest to our readers. The patient was Mrs. Davis, of Nance's station. She was suffering with an immense tumor, which had grown to such proportions as to prevent her from sleeping and made her almost a stranger to her family. In this condition Mrs. Davis consulted Dr. Seth N.
Jordan, who advised an immediate operation.
Mrs. Davis in her normal condition weighs only ninety pounds, measured at this time around the abdomen forty-four inches. Through the clever attention of Mr. J. A. Fraser such arrangements were made as secured the admission of Mrs. D.
to the hospital, and Dr. Jordan removed an ovarian tumor weighing seven pounds. This operation, which is known among surgeons as avarotomy, consists in cutting the abdominal wall open and removing the tumor. There are only two larger tumors on record that have been successfully removed from the abdomen.

We learn that Dr. Jordan used an electric knife in removing the tumor, which prevented all loss of blood. This with the thorough and systematic use of carbolic acid, is due much of the success of the operation. Her friends will be pleased to learn that Mrs. Davis is rapidly recovering and is cheerful and bright, with a good appetite.
Grave Meeting.

The old favorite Irish comedians, Dan and Josie Morris Sullivan, supported by a good company, will produce their new and romantic Irish drama
in four acts, entitled as above, at DeVine's opera house Friday and Saturday, and at matinee Saturday afternoon. It has new scenery and grand effects painted expressly for the play. Dan needs no word of comment, his impersonation of Irish characters, his jigs, clogs, and other specialties are well known. Miss Josie Morris Sullivan is a bright and sparkling little lass full of fun and wit.

The Silent Man.
Mr. A. Q. Scammon, business manager of the Frank Evans company, was in the city last night.
Monday night the company will play Joaquin Miller's new play, "The Silent Man," and Tuesday night they will present "Slave of Guilt." Of "The Silent Man" Mr. Miller says:
"The Silent Man" is not absolutely silent of course. I do not mean that. But I have taken a man with a trace of Indian blood in his veins; a young man who loves his mother, is proud, full of patient pity for the wrongs of her race; of bitterness for his father, her betrayer, and all his kind; and so, under all these wrongs, is like a true Indian, silent, silent till, like a pent-up flood, the heart bursts and bears calamity before it."
